

---

Local Bars

Posted by Joeymo - 2008/03/31 04:40

---

Anybody who lives in Paramus NJ knows about the Orange Lantern, AKA, the "O.L". A great bar to go to after already having "gone out". The best bar in the area for beer drinkers is in Ridgewood,(in my opinion) is "THE OFFICE". It has a great beer selection, and a decent food menu too. A little more upscale than the "O.L", but not as easy to walk home from!!!!

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by howieatbreakaway - 2008/04/12 06:57

---

Croxely Ales in Rockville Center is consistently the best beer bar for me!!!

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by LexyPlum - 2008/04/14 11:04

---

Bishops Colar in the Fairmount area of Philadelphia,PA is the best local bar in the area. It is the perfect place to join up with friends.

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by tbellisari - 2008/04/14 18:54

---

I agree with Howieatbreakaway. Croxely Ales is definitely tops on the list for LI bars. Can't wait for the new Farmingdale location to open up this spring. Also, Effin Groovin in Merrick has a very good selection on tap.

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by testpilot - 2008/04/15 02:18

---

Golden Ale Rail House in Newburgh NY
By far the best in Orange County NY:cheer:

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by Apollo - 2008/04/18 14:05

---

It springtime in Reno! and the patios are opening up!
Spent yesterday afternoon on the roof deck patio at the Silver Peak Brew Pub great food and and the IPA! And a view too!
Tomorrow afternoon will be at the Great Basin Brewery sipping on a Wildhorse or a seasonal...CPA? maybe... yeah. I'm happy!

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by BarleyDavidson - 2008/04/23 16:00

---

Northwestern NJ has a new place opening any day now called Salt.

Check out their beer list here, real nice selection. I can't wait to try the place out.

<http://saltgastropub.com/beer.html>

---

Re:Local Bars

Posted by Kate - 2008/04/27 16:34

---

I'm fairly new to the whole beer and micro-brew scene, but Bell's Brewery in Kalamazoo, Michigan is must go.

---

Re:Local Bars

Posted by redbach - 2008/05/11 23:40

---

Well I live in Philly, so here's my favorite places....they all have an awesome beer selection, crowd, food, and music selection.

1. Fergies
  2. Jose Pistolas
  3. Urban Saloon (I work there, so it has to be great)
  4. Good Dog
  5. The Royal Taver,
  6. South Philly Tap Room
-

Re:Local Bars

Posted by danimalw_1 - 2008/05/12 13:08

---

A great bar in South Florida is Brother Tuckers. It's located on E Atlantic Blvd in Pompano Beach near A1A. This Belgian Beer Cafe' has an eclectic beer menu ( bottle and draught; the draught changes periodically) and food menu. The waitstaff is very knowledgeable and helpful.

---

Re:Local Bars

Posted by KING__SIZE - 2008/05/14 09:51

---

Philly:
Monks Cafe is a great place if you can get in. Try the sour puss, and the burger with truffle cheese. OMFG it's good!

Joisey:
I like a little dive in NJ called "Yosh's Linwood Inn", decent beer selection (Anchor Steam, McSorely's, Yueng Ling) and dynamite burgers. It might be getting torn down by a developer claiming eminent domain. I hang there to watch the Mets games, and the playoffs.

Harvest Moon is a nice place too, I go there every year with SWMBO and then see a play "downtown".

Victory in Princeton is a decent place but the food is better than the beer (beef short ribs, and the osso busco is f'n amazing).

---

Re:Local Bars

Posted by KBinIL - 2008/05/27 19:41

---

Celtic Mist and Brewhaus are the two best locals in Springfield, IL. Fortunately they are only a block apart!

---

=====

Re:Local Bars-Manayunk

Posted by moorelaxer13 - 2008/06/05 18:25

---

Flatrock Saloon in Manayunk is another great beer hub...doesn't take credit cards though, this joint is all cash. Great place for dates who like to drink beer...

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by spanky johnson - 2008/06/05 19:37

---

If in NYC, here are a few suggestions:

McSorley's Old Ale House
Stout NYC
The Slaughtered Lamb Pub
Jeremy's Ale House
Ginger Man

Enjoy.

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by kalib215 - 2008/06/09 15:04

---

If your'e ever in Bethlehem, Pa you must check out Bethlehem Brew Works and Steelgaarden Lounge. The atmosphere is perfect for everyone and the beer they brew is pretty amazing.

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by fishrgirl - 2008/07/13 11:00

---

If you're ever in the SE PA or northern DE area, Iron Hill Brewery is really great! Gotta try their milk stout that usually is brewed in the early winter... :cheer:

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by dutch05 - 2008/09/12 18:41

---

If your in Grand Rapids Michigan, you need to go to the Hop Cat, it's the newest beer bar in town, done extremely well, has 48 beers on tap, 150 cans and bottles, and the bartenders/servers are well versed in the different types of beer available there.

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by Porkysnyc - 2008/10/06 14:15

---

<http://i57.servimg.com/u/f57/13/07/35/98/beerre11.jpg>

Starting Tuesday October 7th, Porky's NYC presents BEER OLYMPICS...
$10 Per Person Gets You Unlimited Miller Lite Drafts For All Games and 2 for 1 drinks!!

---

Beer Pong-Quarters-Flip Cup plus much more...
CASH Prize Each Week, The Bigger The Crowd, The Bigger The Prize, So Tell Your Friends!
Email Jessica@porkysnyc.com or call 212.675.8007 to register your team of two today!

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by otakuden - 2008/12/08 08:45

---

a new beer and wine bar just opened up in port st lucie, FL, just off the st. lucie west I95 exit. it is called Vine & Barley and it is truly a godsend. excellent rotating craft and import selection of beers along with a quiet, rustic, old-bar atmosphere.

they have wine too, but hey, this is Ale Street News so... :)

=====

Re:Local Bars

Posted by DRxAndy - 2009/01/01 21:10

---

Around the Lansing, MI area good beer bars can be scarce - the largest selection of goodness usually resides @ Crunchy's in east lansing, with 27 taps usually 20 of them are michigan.

Old Chicago chain has a location in okemos and they're pretty cool - short's huma lumpa as a permanent handle, which makes it worthwhile alone.

Brannigan Bro's in downtown lansing has something nice here and there

I hear good things about dusty's taproom, but have never been.

=====