Hi there from Birmingham UK. My favourite is a beer called Wye Valley HPA from Hereford England but enjoyed my craft beers on trips to NYC and Boston over last couple of years.

Although it could be filling I like Stone Brewing's Smoked Porter for this summer's beer of choice. It is very dark but doesn't have the heavy taste and head of Guinness. I was in Alaska recently and have to say the Alaska Brewing Co Smoked Porter is close but has a little too much smoke taste for me.

Although I wouldn't like to drink the same thing over and over, I would have to pick Stone's Arrogant Bastard (although anything else from Stone would do also). I used to be able to stop by the brewery on the way home but alas no longer. I now live in New York.

My regular favorite is Dogfish Head's 60 minute IPA is fantastic, and the 90 minute goes down even beter (if you like a little hppoiness).

My alltime favorite beer is Samichlaus though. You can't get much better than the strongest lager beer in the world (14% ABV)

You all have great ideas for me to try ouy next time I'm in the mood for a nice cold one. I have been sticking with Stella Artoise for a while now - light but tasty! I would love to fill that Cruzin' cooler with some nice cold ones and roll down the lakeside with that baby!
