

---

favorite beer

Posted by conetop668 - 2008/04/22 13:46

---

my favorite is Schmalts Alt by Schells. Much like Guinness but about $2.00 cheaper per six pack. It doesn't hurt to live only 9 miles from the brewery either. Unfortunately it no longer is a year round beer. it was unavailable for about 2 years but I guess enough people like me let the brewery know and it is available at Christmas time now.

=====

Re:favorite beer

Posted by govikes - 2008/04/23 18:41

---

Schmaltz compared to Guinness? C'mon, New Ulm, MN!! Schaltz Alt is a fine product, but it is not Guinness! Schell's does make some fine beers, folks. For those of you outside the brewing nirvana of the upper midwest, too bad. When you're road-tripping this summer, you need to check out the many great breweries/pubs in Wisconsin and the eastern part of the Land of 10,000 Lakes. And, for the best brewfest, the Great Taste of the Midwest--can you say Madison?--is THE place to be in early August.

As I enjoy my Ale Asylum Hopalicious (again, Madison, the excellent new brewpub), cheers to all at Ale Street News! GoVikes.

=====

Re:favorite beer

Posted by ht2jenk - 2008/04/23 19:43

---

Wait a minute, who says we have to pick a "favorite"??? Too many great ones to choose from! I prefer the Guinessey stouts...oh, not to forget the hefe-style ones...:kiss:

=====

Re:favorite beer

Posted by todagain - 2008/05/10 11:37

---

:) If it goes down smooth gotta luv it Sierra nevada Pale Ale

Anderson Valley Palooka (sp?!) Pale Ale - please come to CT!

KONA!!

=====